Tori Richard Ala Moana Shopping Center

Honolulu, Oahu, Hawaii

This 2,200 sf high-end clothing shop in Ala Moana Center was designed as the signature store for this 50-year old garment manufacturer, and the prototype for their expansion of dedicated stores in Hawaii and abroad. Coordinating with the Pan-Asian aesthetic found in many of their unique fabrics, the store has the feel of Burma during the time of the Dutch Orient traders, blending Asian with European Colonial motifs. Patterned travertine flooring, teak storefronts and trims, decorative bracketed columns and laser-cut hardwood grilles in traditional Indian fabric patterns create a luxurious and elegant setting reflecting the high quality of the garments sold.
